

Please do not undermine the State of Indiana's Telephone Privacy Act. Since the implementation of this law, I have been able to sit down to dinner without the annoying interruption of endless telephone solicitation, enjoy evening activity without annoying telephone solicitation, and have received only one telephone solicitation since enactment.

Please remember the intent of the Constitution of the United States was originally intended to allow the general sovereignty of the states. Do not infringe upon the Constitutional rights of the states to govern themselves by overwriting the laws of the citizens of the states.

Thank you.
